Good morning, Jennifer!

I have been checking the docket regularly and still do not see any comments that were submitted through GASP's website. About a week ago we had a record of about 60 comments being submitted to the docket through our website. Do you have any update on the status of these comments being posted?

Thanks!

Hi Haley. Apparently it can take some time (more than a week or so) for comments to appear. My counterpart has spoken to the docket coordinators and they are very backed up. All comments must be read/screened before posting. I will keep an eye on things

Jennifer,

I see that 9 comments are up on the docket for the proposed listing of the 35th Avenue site on the NPL. My organization, GASP, is facilitating comments and we set up a system where citizens can directly submit comments to the email address provided by EPA. We have had 60 people submit comments through our page. However none of these comments appear on the docket. How long does it take for these comments to be uploaded or will they be uploaded?

Thanks so much!

Comments may take up to a week to show up publicly. When I talked to the docket contractor last week, they were really backed up (they deal with all of OSWER and pesticides). They have to read through all of the comments and make sure there is no CBI, bad language or copyright issues before posting them.

Do either of you know how long these usually take to show on regulations.gov

Sounds like they are sending them to superunf.docket@epa.gov

Hi Haley. I am not sure how long it take the docket to reflect submitted comments. I sent a message to my contacts in HQ to try to find out for you.
